The Unavoidable Challenge of Critical Care

Physical Separation in the NICU

The NICU provides essential, life-saving care for infants, but it also creates a physical separation that is a primary source of stress and anxiety for families. While hospitals are committed to family-centered support, bridging this emotional and physical gap remains a significant challenge for both parents and clinical staff.

A Secure Window to Their World

Introducing Neo-Guardian™, a simple, secure, and reliable platform offering families a one-way, view-only window to their baby's bedside. Neo-Guardian™ helps reduce the burden of separation, strengthen the crucial bond between parent and child, and support your hospital's commitment to family-centered care.
